

ISO 17100: 2015 for Translation Services

EL-Translations is the first translation agency in Greece who has been awarded the ISO 17100:2015 for translation services.

The ISO 17100:2015 is the new internationally recognized standard for companies within the translation industry, which covers the essential processes for providing translations service. It establishes and defines the translator, their technical resource and quality of service. Its aim is to outline the service a client will receive within a recognized set of procedures that are carried out to best practice.

It defines the aspects of:

- Commissioning work and translation
- Proof read and review
- Contractual requirement and project management
- Traceability of the translation process
- Overall quality management of the service

To receive ISO 17100:2015, EL-Translations was audited by TÜV Hellas (TÜV Nord Group), an internationally recognized, independent certifying organization.
